

Strong connections through self growth...

Trust us, we're single helps those who struggle forming and maintaing relationships (platonic and romantic) target the root of their challenges.

About Us

Who we are...

A pre-, present, and post relationship advising company that helps individuals and couples identify steps to improve their relationships with people. Started by two single people who had issues finding the right person and realized that finding yourself was the first step in developing great relationships (platonic, business, and romantic). Those same two single people went on to pursue degrees in psychology with a focus in counseling; combining their own experiences and education to help those going through social challenges.

What we do...

TUWS serves those who struggle to form, maintain or finish relationships—whether they be romantic, professional, or platonic. We know that everyone could use an experienced ear and a kind heart to help guide them through rough patches in their life. We offer these services and boxes through a monthly subscription plan.

Monthly Theme

Peace of mind...

In this months tier 1 box, try some eucalyptus shampoo and body wash, and lavender essential oils for peace of mind and clarity. We find that eucalyptus is good at any time of the day to ease daily stress. Then at the end of your day, lavender essential oils for winding down just before bed.
